“What makes him valuable is that he stays within himself during a game and pays attention to doing his job as the ultimate role player. Right now all parts of his game are inside and he stays in his lane to be effective. Time, development and being coachable can enhance his productivity.”

“Butz is a strictly inside post who is a good rebounder and screener. A garbage man of sorts as he will do all the little things to help his team win. His athletic ability his average and he scores best around the basket on drop off passes, offensive rebounds and broken plays. He knows his job is to screen rebound and score inside and he does it well. He shows a short face up game to 15' face but that will need work to be considered a legitimate threat.”
